

CINEMA STUDIES & MOVING IMAGE ARTS

The Department of Cinema Studies & Moving Image Arts educates students in the history and development of film as an art form, from its inception to its contemporary forms. The curriculum instills an informed analytic awareness of the ways in which cinema has evolved, its artistic and stylistic evolution and the contexts of international cinemas. For students in the creative BA and BFA tracks, the curriculum also provides the resources for significant cutting edge and original creative exploration of the medium in all its forms.

The undergraduate degrees in cinema studies emphasize knowledge and awareness of:

- The major artistic contributions to the evolution of cinema, from the advent of the moving image to the present.
- The general outlines of world cinema from the silent period to the present, with emphasis on the historical contributions of major national cinemas.
- Film criticism, aesthetics and film theory.

Students completing either the BA or the BFA degree in cinema studies are expected to acquire the ability and skills to:

- Analyze and interpret films critically.
- Communicate critical interpretations competently in essay form.
- Make several short creative film or video works (BA production emphasis and BFA only).

Note: Admission to any class after the third meeting of the class is contingent on professor permission. The department may drop a student from a class if the student misses the first two classes of the semester.

Course code for this program is CINE.
