

PHILOSOPHY

Applicants for admission to the Graduate School for work toward a master's or doctoral degree in philosophy are expected to have had 18 or more credit hours in undergraduate courses in the subject.

Students in the master's and doctoral programs must satisfy a variety of requirements, including the completion of coursework. The Department of Philosophy has a diversified faculty that can supervise the writing of master's theses and doctoral dissertations on a wide range of topics.

The Department makes available teaching assistantships and then graduate part-time instructorships to doctoral students, and assists with job placement. Teaching assistantships are available to several master's students each semester as well.

An overview (<https://www.colorado.edu/philosophy/graduate/overview/>) and descriptions of both degree programs (PhD (<https://www.colorado.edu/philosophy/graduate/phd-program/>) and MA (<https://www.colorado.edu/philosophy/graduate/ma-program/>)) are available from the Department of Philosophy. Students wishing to pursue graduate work in philosophy should note master's (<https://catalog.colorado.edu/graduate/degree-requirements/masters-degree-requirements/>) and doctoral (<https://catalog.colorado.edu/graduate/degree-requirements/doctoral-degree-requirements/>) degree requirements, and consult the Graduate (<https://www.colorado.edu/philosophy/graduate/>) portion of the Department's website.

Course code for this program is PHIL.
