

REGISTRATION & ENROLLMENT

Registration

Visit the Office of the Registrar's Academic Calendar (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/academic-calendar/>) webpage for specific academic and financial dates and deadlines. Students should also consult individual college and school sections of this catalog and their dean's office for additional information on special requirements and deadlines. The following registration policies are intended to serve as general guidelines.

Students who require accommodations because of a disability should visit the Disability Services (<http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/>) website or call 303-492-8671.

Confirmation Deposit

All new degree students pay a one-time $200 confirmation deposit when they confirm their intent to enroll at CU Boulder. Students are not permitted to complete the New Student Welcome Experience or register for classes if the university has not received the deposit.

Confirmation deposits are non-refundable except upon graduation from CU Boulder. All refunds are reduced by any outstanding financial obligations. Interest earned from confirmation deposits is used for student financial aid.

Questions regarding the confirmation deposit policy should be directed to the Office of Admissions, 303-492-6301.

Buff Portal

Student registration and other important information and services are available through Buff Portal (<https://buffportal.colorado.edu/>). Students access the portal using a secure CU login name and IdentiKey password and Duo Multi-Factor Authentication. For more information and registration instructions, visit the Registration (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/>) webpage.

Registering for Classes

Students enroll in (or register for) classes using CU Boulder Class Search, which may be accessed through Buff Portal. In Buff Portal, students may also check their assigned enrollment dates, view any holds that may prevent registration (see "Holds"), see to-do lists and obtain their advisor's name and contact information.

New incoming students and transfer undergraduate students receive their registration instructions and information as part of the New Student Welcome Experience. Continuing students may consult the academic calendar or view their registration dates in Buff Portal; they are also notified by email each semester of upcoming registration periods.

If a student misses their assigned enrollment date, they must wait until open enrollment to register for classes.

Registration instructions are also available on the Enroll in Classes (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/enroll/>) webpage.

Enrollment Dates

Each term, students are assigned enrollment dates based on the number of credits they have completed. Accessible in Buff Portal, the enrollment assignment indicates the dates and times during which the student may enroll, as well as the maximum number of credits they can take. Students who miss their assigned enrollment window must wait until the open enrollment period to register for classes.

Priority registration has been formally approved for specific populations of students who have unique scheduling needs. Priority registration does not override university or departmental policies, holds, permissions, etc., nor does it guarantee the provision of classes at specific times. Student populations with priority registration, which often occurs within the enrollment period specified for their class (i.e., freshmen, sophomores), may include students with disabilities, military veterans and student athletes.

Holds

A hold may be placed on a student's record for a number of reasons, including but not limited to financial, advising, scholastic, conduct and health. A hold may prevent a student from registering, receiving a housing assignment, returning to school, or obtaining an official transcript. Students should resolve holds as quickly as possible by contacting the appropriate campus office identified in the hold details in Buff Portal.

Special Registration Intercampus Enrollment Program

CU Boulder students enrolled in at least one Boulder main campus class may be allowed to register for up to two classes totaling no more than six credit hours on another University of Colorado campus.

Classes taken at other CU campuses must be required for graduation or unavailable on the Boulder campus in a given term, or the classes must conflict with another required class in which the student is enrolled.

Boulder students exercising this option pay tuition for their total credit hours at Boulder campus rates. Intercampus Enrollment forms and instructions are available on the Registration Programs (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/registration-programs/>) webpage.

Students receiving VA educational benefits are not eligible to receive funding for intercampus enrollment. Contact your campus's veteran and military affairs office for more information.

Intercampus students are registered in host campus classes after continuing home students have had the chance to enroll. Students must adhere to the add/drop deadlines of the host campus when making changes to their intercampus enrollment.

Boulder campus students who wish to take coursework on another campus of the University of Colorado, but not through the Intercampus Enrollment program, may be able to register on that campus independent of Boulder-campus registration. However, they must apply for admission to and follow the registration procedures established by the other campus. Students should check with their dean's office for approval and course applicability to their degree program. Students who want to complete degrees or certificates at another University of Colorado campus must apply to that program on the non-Boulder campus.

Graduate students should check with the Graduate School for exceptions to the home-campus registration requirement and limitations on credit hours at the host campus. The coursework must be required for their degree program; they must have their dean's permission; they must be enrolled for at least one course on the Boulder campus; and enrollment levels must not have been reached on the other campus. Contact the Office of the Registrar for additional information.

Late Registration

We recommend students register for classes as soon as their registration period begins. For more information, visit the Add a Class (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/register/add/>) webpage. Please note that late registration may prevent the timely review of financial aid eligibility, may result in a graduate program being discontinued, limit the number of open classes and more. As of Spring 2025, there is no longer a late registration fee.

University Employees and Dependents

CU Boulder offers a tuition assistance benefit to eligible employees and their dependents. For current benefit information, visit Employee Services' Tuition Assistance (<https://www.cu.edu/employee-services/employee-tuition-benefit/>) website.

Continuing Education Auditors Program

Community members aged 18 and older, who are not registered students but wish to listen in on regularly scheduled lectures, are eligible to audit courses during the fall, spring and summer semesters. Community members may do so by obtaining auditor status.

The university's primary commitment is to degree-seeking and credit-seeking students. Auditors' course requests will be processed after these groups have registered. Auditors must receive permission and obtain a signature from course instructors to be added to the roster.

Audited courses will not appear on any transcript, formal or informal, as no credit is awarded. Registered auditors receive class instruction, learning management system access and library privileges. Being an auditor at the University of Colorado Boulder does not guarantee eligibility for regular degree or nondegree status.

Note: Admitted degree students, either enrolled or suspended, are not permitted to audit courses. If an admitted degree student is interested in participating in a class without receiving credit, the student must enroll in the course and request to take the course as no-credit (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/register/edit/#what_it_is-1719). A course must be offered with the student option grading basis to be eligible for no-credit. Courses taken for no credit are assessed the same tuition rate as courses taken for credit. Contact ceregistration@colorado.edu or call 303-492-5148 for more information.

The Senior Auditors program, formerly offered by the CU Boulder Alumni Association, along with the Community Auditors program previously offered by Continuing Education, have been incorporated into the new Continuing Education Auditors program. Please refer to the Auditors enrollment page (<https://ce.colorado.edu/programs/auditors/>) (<https://ce.colorado.edu/resources/topics/enrollment-auditors/>) for information on how to register for courses and current auditor restrictions.

Dropping & Adding Classes Procedures

Students can add or drop classes in Buff Portal. For more information, visit the Enroll in Classes (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/enroll/>) webpage.

Deadlines

For specific drop and add deadlines for both the regular full-semester and special fall and spring sessions, visit the Academic Calendar (<http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/academic-calendar/>) and Special Session Calendars (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/calendar/sessions/>) webpages. For summer deadlines, visit the Summer Session Calendars (<http://www.colorado.edu/summer/resources/calendars/>) webpage.

Add a Class

- Students may add classes in Buff Portal during designated registration periods each term.
- After this time period, students must contact the instructor or the instructor's department and request to be added to a class. Their request may be denied based on lack of attendance, fire code capacity being met, lack of pre-requisites, etc. If a student is added to a class after their designated registration period, then the university cannot guarantee timely review of the student's financial aid or processing of the tuition and fee bill. Students who are added late and then decide to drop will be subject to the normal tuition adjustment and course withdrawal deadlines.

Drop a Class

- Class drop (without a W grade): Students may drop individual classes with a refund (if applicable) and no record (no W grades) through the three-week class drop deadline of a regular full-semester fall/spring session and through the equivalent class drop deadline of any special session (dates vary).
- Class withdrawal: After the class drop (without a W grade) deadline of a full-semester fall/spring session or the equivalent drop deadline of any special session, students may continue to withdrawal from classes without instructor/advisor approval through the class withdrawal deadline of a full-semester fall/spring session or the equivalent class withdrawal deadline of any special session (dates vary). However, tuition and fees are assessed and grades of W appear on the transcript.
- Late class withdrawal: After the 10-week class withdrawal deadline, or equivalent special session class withdrawal deadline, approval via a petition with extenuating circumstances is required. Students should contact their advisor to discuss their options. If approved, tuition and fees are assessed and grades of W appear on the transcript.

Students dropping all of their classes should see the Withdrawal section.

Withdrawing from the Semester

A withdrawal from a Main Campus semester occurs if the student:

- Never registers for classes in a fall or spring semester
- Drops all classes for a semester
- Submits a withdrawal request to the Office of the Registrar

A student who desires to withdraw from the university and drop all Main Campus classes should visit the Office of the Registrar's Withdraw from the Semester (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/>) withdraw/) webpage and review the current term's withdrawal calendar and the withdrawal checklist to understand the potential impacts of withdrawing. Failure to withdraw properly may result in failing grades recorded for every class and liability for the full amount of tuition and fees for that term.

Rules for withdrawing may vary with each college and school. Students anticipating a withdrawal should consult their advisor to understand the potential impacts to their degree requirements.

Withdrawing students (including students applying for a graduate leave of absence) with Federal Perkins/NDSL loans must complete a loan exit interview and clear all outstanding financial balances before leaving the university. Failure to do so results in a hold on the student's record. This hold prevents registration for future terms. Students can complete a loan exit interview by contacting University Student Loans & Debt Management in the Bursar's Office at 303-492-5571, toll free at 800-925-9844 or TTY 303-492-3528.

Undergraduate students who withdraw and then wish to return to the university have two semesters (plus summer) from their last graded semester to return to the university without having to reapply for admission. Graduate students can apply for an approved leave of absence.

Details are available on the Withdraw from the Semester (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/>) webpage.

For more information, contact the Office of the Registrar at 303-492-6970 or withdraw@colorado.edu. For information about tuition and fee obligations for withdrawing students, see either the Undergraduate Tuition and Fee Policies (<https://catalog.colorado.edu/undergraduate/student-finances/#policiestext>) or the Graduate Tuition and Fee Policies (<https://catalog.colorado.edu/graduate/student-finances/#policiestext>) sections.

Active Duty

Students who are military personnel, fire fighters and police officers called to active duty and/or to help with disasters may request to go on a leave of absence. These students should contact the Office of the Registrar. For more information, visit the Withdraw from the Semester (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/>) webpage.

Graduate Leave of Absence

Graduate and MBA students who do not maintain continuous enrollment (summer excluded) must apply for a leave of absence or be discontinued from the university. Graduate students who wish to take a leave of absence from the university must submit an application by the published deadline in a given term and get approval from their department and their school, college or program to avoid having to reapply.

Graduate students taking an approved leave of absence are allowed two inactive semesters (plus summer), and are guaranteed a place in their current college or school and in their current major when they return to the university. Students must not have any disciplinary holds and must be in good academic standing with the university. Students registered for the semester in which they plan to begin their leave of absence must formally withdraw. See the section on withdrawal procedures above.

For an application and more information, visit the Leave of Absence (<https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/leave-of-absence/>) webpage.
