REGISTRATION & ENROLLMENT

Registration
Visit the Office of the Registrar’s Academic Calendar (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/academic-calendar/) webpage for specific academic and financial dates and deadlines. Students should also consult individual college and school sections of this catalog and their dean’s office for additional information on special requirements and deadlines. The following registration policies are intended to serve as general guidelines.

Students who require accommodations because of a disability should visit the Disability Services (http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/) website or call 303-492-8671.

Confirmation Deposit
All new degree students pay a one-time $200 confirmation deposit when they first confirm their intent to enroll at CU Boulder. Students are not permitted to register if the university has not received the deposit.

Confirmation deposits are refunded to students upon graduation or official withdrawal from CU Boulder within established dates and procedures. All refunds are reduced by any outstanding financial obligations. Interest earned from confirmation deposits is used for student financial aid.

Questions regarding the confirmation deposit policy should be directed to the Office of Admissions, 303-492-6301.

Buff Portal
Student registration and other important information and services are available through Buff Portal (https://buffportal.colorado.edu/). Students access the portal using a secure CU login name and IdentiKey password. For more information and registration instructions, visit the Registration (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/) webpage.

Registering for Classes
All CU Boulder students register for classes through Buff Portal, where they can also check their assigned registration periods, view any holds that may prevent registration (see "Holds"), see to-do lists and obtain their advisor’s name and contact information.

New incoming students and transfer undergraduate students receive their registration instructions and information during the New Student Welcome Experience. Continuing students may consult the academic calendar or view their registration dates in Buff Portal; they are also notified by email each semester of upcoming registration periods.

If a student misses their assigned registration window, they must wait until the schedule adjustment period (fall only) or open enrollment to register for classes. No exceptions are made to this policy.

Registration instructions are also available on the Enroll in Classes (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/enroll/) webpage.

Enrollment Dates
Each term, students are assigned enrollment dates based on the number of credits they have completed. Accessible in Buff Portal, the enrollment assignment indicates the dates and times during which the student may enroll, as well as the maximum number of credits they can take. Students who miss their assigned dates must wait until the schedule adjustment (fall only) or open enrollment periods to register for classes.

Priority registration has been formally approved for specific populations of students who have unique scheduling needs. Priority registration does not override university or departmental policies, holds, permissions, etc., nor does it guarantee the provision of classes at specific times. Student populations with priority registration, which often occurs within the enrollment period specified for their class (i.e., freshmen, sophomores), may include students with disabilities, military veterans and student athletes.

Holds
A hold may be placed on a student’s record for a number of reasons, including but not limited to financial, advising, scholastic, conduct and health. A hold may prevent a student from registering, returning to school, obtaining an official transcript or receiving a diploma. Students should resolve holds as quickly as possible by contacting the appropriate campus office identified in the hold details in Buff Portal.

Special Registration
Intercampus Enrollment Program
CU Boulder students enrolled in at least one Boulder main campus class may be allowed to register for up to two classes or 6 credit hours, whichever is greater, on another University of Colorado campus, excluding Anschutz Medical Campus.

Classes taken at other CU campuses must be required for graduation or unavailable on the Boulder campus in a given term, or the classes must conflict with another required class in which the student is enrolled.

Boulder students exercising this option pay tuition at Boulder campus rates. Intercampus Enrollment forms and instructions are available on the Registration Programs (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/registration-programs/) webpage.

Intercampus students are registered in host campus classes after continuing home students have had the chance to enroll. Students must adhere to the add/drop deadlines of the host campus when making changes to their intercampus enrollment.

Boulder campus students who wish to take coursework on another campus of the University of Colorado, but not through the Intercampus Enrollment program, may be able to register on that campus independent of Boulder-campus registration. However, they must apply for admission to and follow the registration procedures established by the other campus. Students should check with their dean’s office for approval and course applicability to their degree program.

Graduate students should check with the Graduate School for exceptions to the home-campus registration requirement and limitations on credit hours at the host campus. The coursework must be required for their degree program; they must have their dean’s permission; they must be enrolled for at least one course on the Boulder campus; and enrollment levels must not have been reached on the other campus. Contact the Office of the Registrar for additional information.

Late Registration

We recommend students register for classes as soon as their registration period begins. If a students enrolls after the third Friday of the semester (fall or spring), they will be assessed a $100 late-registration fee (this is different than charges assessed for late payments of the university bill). For more information, visit the Add a Class (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/register/add/) webpage.

The late registration fee also applies to graduate students registering as candidates for degree or for thesis credit hours.

University Employees and Dependents

CU Boulder offers a tuition benefit to eligible employees and their dependents. For current benefit information, visit Employee Services’ Employee Tuition Waiver Benefit (https://www.cu.edu/employee-services/employee-tuition-benefit/) website.

Auditing

Individuals who have not been admitted to the university and who wish to attend regular classes may do so by obtaining auditor’s status. Auditors must receive permission and obtain a signature from course instructors during the first week of class to be formally added to the roster.

Audited courses will not appear on any transcript, formal or informal, as no credit is awarded. Registered auditors receive class instruction, learning management system access and library privileges. Being an auditor at the University of Colorado Boulder does not guarantee eligibility for regular degree or nondegree status.

Note: Admitted degree students, either enrolled or suspended, are not permitted to audit courses. If an admitted degree student is interested in participating in a class without receiving credit, the student must enroll in the course and request to take the course as no-credit (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/register/edit/#what_it_is-1719). A course must be offered with the student option grading basis to be eligible for no-credit. Courses taken for no credit are assessed the same tuition rate as courses taken for credit.

Community Auditors

Community members age 18–54 can register for the Community Auditors program through Continuing Education by completing the Community Auditor Registration Form on the Community Auditors (http://ce.colorado.edu/programs/community-auditors/) webpage. Contact ceregistration@colorado.edu or call 303-492-5148 for more information.

Community auditors pay for three credit hours at the in-state undergraduate tuition rate in the College of Arts and Sciences. The cost is a flat rate and, with instructor permission, auditors may audit as many classes as desired. Nonrefundable payment is due at the time of enrollment.

Senior Auditors Program

Individuals 55 years and older can register for the Senior Auditors Program through the CU Boulder Alumni Association and qualify for reduced rates. Registration and eligibility information is available on the Senior Auditors (http://www.colorado.edu/alumni/programs/senior-auditors/) webpage. Contact the Alumni Association at 303-492-8484 for more information about this program.

Dropping & Adding Classes

Procedures

Students can add or drop classes in Buff Portal. For more information, visit the Enroll in Classes (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/registration/enroll/) webpage.

Deadlines

For specific drop and add deadlines for both the regular 16-week and special fall and spring sessions, visit the Academic Calendar (http://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/academic-calendar/) webpage.

Add a Class

- Students may add classes in Buff Portal during designated registration periods each term.
- After this time period, students must contact the instructor or the instructor’s department and request to be added to a class. Their request may be denied based on lack of attendance, fire code capacity being met, lack of pre-requisites, etc. If a student is added to a class after their designated registration period, then the university cannot guarantee timely review of the student’s financial aid or processing of the tuition and fee bill.

Drop a Class

- No Record Drop: Students may drop individual classes in Buff Portal with a refund and no record (no W grades) through the third Wednesday of a regular 16-week fall or spring session and through the add/drop deadline of any special fall or spring session (summer dates vary).
- Drop with Record: After the third Wednesday of a 16-week fall or spring session or the add/drop deadline of any special fall or spring session, students may continue to drop classes without instructor/advisor approval in Buff Portal through Friday of the tenth week of the regular 16 week fall or spring session or the Deadline to Drop a Class in Buff Portal date for any special fall or spring session (summer dates vary). However, tuition and fees are assessed and grades of W appear on the transcript.
- Late Drop: After the 10-week drop or Deadline to Drop a Class in Buff Portal deadline for any special fall or spring session, instructor and dean signatures are required to drop a class. Some colleges may require additional approval or processes, such as petitioning the dean (students should check with their school or college). Class drops are generally not approved after this date except in extraordinary circumstances. Tuition and fees are assessed and grades of W appear on the transcript.

Students dropping all of their classes should see the Withdrawal section.

Withdrawing from the Semester

A withdrawal from a Main Campus semester occurs if the student:

- Never registers for classes in a fall or spring semester
- Drops all classes for a semester
- Submits a withdrawal request to the Office of the Registrar

A student who desires to withdraw from the university and drop all Main Campus classes should visit the Office of the Registrar’s Withdraw from the Semester (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/) webpage and review the current term’s withdrawal calendar and the withdrawal checklist to understand the potential impacts of withdrawing. Failure to withdraw properly may result in failing grades recorded for every class and liability for the full amount of tuition and fees for that term.

Rules for withdrawing may vary with each college and school. Students anticipating a withdrawal should consult their advisor to understand the potential impacts to their degree requirements.

Withdrawing students (including students applying for a graduate leave of absence) with Federal Perkins/NDSL loans must complete a loan exit interview and clear all outstanding financial balances before leaving the university. Failure to do so results in a hold on the student’s record. This hold prevents receipt of a diploma or an academic transcript of work at the university and registration for future terms. Students can complete a loan exit interview by contacting University Student Loans & Debt Management in the Bursar’s Office at 303-492-5571, toll free at 800-925-9844 or TTY 303-492-3528.

Undergraduate students who withdraw and then wish to return to the university have two semesters (plus summer) from their last graded semester to return to the university without having to reapply for admission. Graduate students can apply for an approved leave of absence.

Details are available on the Withdraw from the Semester (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/) webpage. For more information, contact the Office of the Registrar at 303-492-6970 or withdraw@colorado.edu. For information about tuition and fee obligations for withdrawing students, see either the Undergraduate Tuition and Fee Policies (catalog.colorado.edu/undergraduate/student-finances/#policiesext) or the Graduate Tuition and Fee Policies (catalog.colorado.edu/graduate/student-finances/#policiesext) sections.

Active Duty
Students who are military personnel, fire fighters and police officers called to active duty and/or to help with disasters may request to go on a leave of absence. These students should contact the Office of the Registrar. For more information, visit the Withdraw from the Semester (https://www.colorado.edu/registrar/students/withdraw/) webpage.

Graduate Leave of Absence
Graduate and MBA students who do not maintain continuous enrollment (summer excluded) must apply for a leave of absence or be discontinued from the university. Graduate students who wish to take a leave of absence from the university must submit an application by the published deadline in a given term and get approval from their department and their school, college or program to avoid having to reapply.

Graduate students taking an approved leave of absence are allowed two inactive semesters (plus summer), and are guaranteed a place in their current college or school and in their current major when they return to the university. Students must not have any disciplinary holds and must be in good academic standing with the university. Students registered for the semester in which they plan to begin their leave of absence must formally withdraw. See the section on withdrawal procedures above.
