Admissions

CU Boulder Online Canvas-Based Programs

Admissions requirements for CU Boulder Online Canvas-Based programs differ by program. Each program has a dedicated Admissions Specialist who can answer program-specific information and guide prospective students through the application process.

For more information and to connect with a program-specific Admissions Specialist, visit the program pages for the program(s) in which you are interested on the CU Boulder Online website (<https://online.colorado.edu/>).

CU Boulder on Coursera

CU Boulder on Coursera programs have performance-based admissions criteria and processes. Six times per year, at the end of each session, students who meet all performance-based requirements for their declared program of study are automatically admitted.

Refer to each program for program-specific admissions policies, requirements and processes.
