

ADMISSIONS

Admissions

Specialized online programs typically have performance-based admissions criteria and processes. Programs that are not approved for performance-based admissions require applicants to have an awarded and verified baccalaureate degree.

Refer to each program for program-specific admissions policies, requirements and processes.