DISTRIBUTED STUDIES PROGRAM

Admission to the disciplinary and divisional track of distributed studies major requires completion of 60 credit hours or more, a one-year break in a student’s academic career, and permission from the College of Arts & Sciences dean’s office. The distributed studies major is intended for returning students who have accumulated a significant number of credit hours toward the completion of one or more arts and sciences majors, are not eligible to continue in those majors, and have taken a break in their academic career.

An individually structured track also is available in the distributed studies major. Students pursuing the individually structured track must write and defend a thesis based on original scholarly or creative work.

For more information, contact the College of Arts and Sciences Academic Advising Center in Woodbury 109.