FILM STUDIES

The Film Studies Program educates students in the history and development of film as an art form and contemporary medium. The curriculum instills an informed analytic awareness of the ways in which film has been used and provides the resources for significant creative exploration of the medium.

The undergraduate degrees in film studies emphasize knowledge and awareness of:

- the major artistic contributions to the evolution of film, from the advent of the moving image to the present;
- the general outlines of world film from the silent period to the present, with emphasis on the historical contributions of major national cinemas; and
- film criticism and film theory.

Students completing either the BA or the BFA degree in film studies are expected to acquire the ability and skills to:

- analyze and interpret films critically;
- communicate such interpretations competently in essay form; and
- make a short creative film or video work (BA Production and BFA only).

NOTE: Admission to any class after the third meeting of the class is contingent on professor permission. The department may drop a student from a class if the student misses the first two classes of the semester.

Course code for this program is FILM.

Courses

FILM 1002 (3) Film Analysis for Non-Majors
Introduces the critical study of film, exploring theoretical, historical and technical concerns while presenting a survey of important film periods and genres. Students will hone critical-thinking, close-analysis, and writing skills. Covers a wide variety of films, approaching them from numerous perspectives, considering both the effects films have on individual viewers and their ability to reflect culture.

Additional Information: Departmental Category: Genre and Movements

FILM 1003 (3) Space Odysseys: Astrophysics/Astronomy via Cinema/Arts
Understanding representation of space in cinematic arts, as well as the underlying science. What are the political, societal, scientific and commercial motives in attempting to show our species venturing beyond Earth? These adventures highlight our hopes and fears for the future, while simultaneously clarifying contemporary anxieties. From the director G. Meklos to the screenwriter B. Marling.

Additional Information: Arts Sci Gen Ed: Distribution-Arts Humanities

FILM 1502 (3) Introduction to Film Studies
Introduces basic media literacy by exploring the technical and aesthetic principles behind the production, analysis and interpretation of films. Explores comprehension and thinking about movies critically as technological, cultural and artistic products. Study of films in different social and historical contexts and discussion of the importance of movies as cultural products.

Additional Information: Arts Sci Gen Ed: Distribution-Arts Humanities

Departmental Category: Genre and Movements
FILM 2000 (3) Moving Image Foundations I
Introduces students to basic image making technology, aesthetics and methods. Fundamentals of film/video production in Super 8mm film, Digital ProRes 422 and other analog and digital image making, editing and management formats. May emphasize personal, experimental or narrative approaches with individual exercises, according to instructor. Basic competencies include composition, lighting, basic audio, basic editing, studio critique, file management, web upload, etc.
Requisites: Requires prerequisite course of FILM 1502 (minimum grade D-).
Grading Basis: Letter Grade
Additional Information: Arts Sci Gen Ed: Distribution-Arts Humanities
Departmental Category: Production

FILM 2002 (3) Recent International Cinema
Familiarizes students with current trends and major directors in international cinema. Students attend specific films screened in class and/or offered in the International Film Series, and read and write about these films.
Recommended: Prerequisite FILM 1502 or 6 hours humanities courses involving critical writing.
Additional Information: Arts Sci Gen Ed: Distribution-Arts Humanities
Departmental Category: Genre and Movements

FILM 2003 (3) Film Topics
