

RUSSIAN, EAST EUROPEAN AND EURASIAN STUDIES - BACHELOR OF ARTS (BA)

The major in Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies (REEES) is an interdisciplinary program focusing on study of the current cultural and social context, and the literary, artistic and historical aspects of Russian, East European and Eurasian cultures in the past and present. The aim of the language curriculum is to equip students to read, write, speak and understand Russian on a level allowing communication with fluent Russian speakers. Before registering for a language course other than RUSS 1010, students should consult with the undergraduate faculty advisor (<https://www.colorado.edu/gssl/russian/programs-degrees/russian-advising/>) concerning appropriate placement.

Students interested in Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies may consider a double major in order to increase their career opportunities. Prospective teachers might combine REEES with a major in another foreign language, while those preparing for a career in government, business or social services may benefit from a combination of REEES and a social science or business major. Students structure their curriculum according to the departmental checklist for majors, in close consultation with a departmental advisor.

Study Abroad

The department strongly recommends that all Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies majors take part in an intensive language program, summer or semester long, in Russian-speaking countries or in the U.S. For more information on CU Study Abroad programs, visit the Education Abroad (<http://abroad.colorado.edu/>) website.

Courses Taught in English

Many of our content courses are offered in translation. These courses generally require no previous study in the language, history or culture of the area involved, and are open to all interested students, regardless of major.

Requirements

General Requirements

Students must complete at least 30 credit hours in Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies (REEES), at least 18 of which must be completed at the 3000 or 4000 level, with grades of C- or better (none may be taken as pass/fail).

- RUSS 1010 and RUSS 1020 do not count toward the 30 credit hours required for the REEES major.
- Students may not receive credit for both RUSS 3060 and RUSS 4010 or RUSS 4020 and RUSS 4060. Choose either the RUSS 3060/RUSS 4060 sequence or the RUSS 4010/RUSS 4020 sequence.
- Beginning or middle-level language course requirements may be met by transfer credit or by testing out of the course. Students who enter the program at the third-year level must complete at least 18 credit hours in residence in courses numbered 3000 or above with grades of C- or better (none may be taken pass/fail).
- Students who enter at and enroll in Russian language courses at the 3000- or 4000-level may not receive credit for lower-division Russian language courses, unless lower-division language coursework was completed prior to registration for 3000- and 4000-level Russian language courses.

- No course can be used for more than one category.

Students are required to structure their curriculum for the major in close consultation with the departmental advisor. (<https://www.colorado.edu/artssciences-advising/christine-luft/>) Students with advanced Russian language skills are strongly encouraged to meet with the undergraduate faculty advisor (<https://www.colorado.edu/gssl/russian/programs-degrees/russian-advising/>) to discuss language placement. Students who have Russian language transfer credit and/or students who are Russian language native or heritage speakers may enter the program at the upper-division level, up to RUSS 4010, with faculty permission.

In the case of advanced language placement, students will be required to meet with the REEES faculty advisor for Russian course substitutions and recommendations. Students who place out of Russian language courses required for the major must replace the credits with additional coursework in Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies. Any substitutions to major coursework must be pre-approved by the REEES faculty advisor.

Note: Study abroad is recommended after the second year of language study.

Graduating in Four Years

Consult the Four-Year Guarantee Requirements (<https://www.colorado.edu/advising/programs-requirements/germanic-slavic-languages-literatures/>) for information on eligibility. The concept of "adequate progress" as it is used here only refers to maintaining eligibility for the four-year guarantee; it is not a requirement for the major.

Recommended four-year plans of study appear on the Plans of Study tab. To maintain adequate progress in Germanic or Russian, East European and Eurasian studies, students should meet the following requirements:

- Begin to study the language in the freshman year, or have received AP credit.

- In consultation with the major program advisor before the end of the drop/add period in the first semester, plan a tentative schedule of courses to be taken over eight semesters.
- Discuss progress toward the degree each semester with the major advisor.

Note: Although these requirements apply only in cases in which students are seeking to graduate under the terms of the four-year guarantee, they are good advice for all majors. Consult the program advisor about the major at any time.

Recommended Four-Year Plans of Study

Through the required coursework for all tracks of the major, students can complete all 12 credit hours of the Arts & Humanities area of the Gen Ed Distribution Requirement. Depending on the courses selected from options, students can potentially complete some credit hours in the Social Sciences area of the Gen Ed Distribution Requirement and the Global Perspective component of the Gen Ed Diversity Requirement.

Learning Outcomes

The following objectives are central to the undergraduate degree in Russian, East European and Eurasian studies:

- To understand, articulate and critically reflect on key concepts, events and movements as they relate to the study of Russian, East European and Eurasian literature, history and culture.
- To cultivate historical understanding and intercultural competency.
- To recognize, describe, and engage critically and comparatively with diverse perspectives and positionalities within Russophone societies.
- To conduct research and engage in critical analysis of the area of study.
- To develop proficiency in Russian language skills, written or spoken, to enable culturally appropriate communication, self-expression and creativity.

Bachelor's–Accelerated Master's Degree Program(s)

The bachelor's–accelerated master's (BAM) degree program options offer currently enrolled CU Boulder undergraduate students the opportunity to receive a bachelor's and master's degree in a shorter period of time. Students receive the bachelor's degree first but begin taking graduate coursework as undergraduates (typically in their senior year).

Because some courses are allowed to double count for both the bachelor's and the master's degrees, students receive a master's degree in less time and at a lower cost than if they were to enroll in a stand-alone master's degree program after completion of their baccalaureate degree. In addition, staying at CU Boulder to pursue a bachelor's–accelerated master's program enables students to continue working with their established faculty mentors.

BA and MA in Russian Studies

Highly motivated undergraduates majoring in Russian studies at CU Boulder have the opportunity to enter a BAM program, thereby earning both the BA and the MA in five years. The accelerated degree program offers a unique academic credential designed to produce skilled graduates for a variety of occupations.

Admissions Requirements

In order to gain admission to the BAM program named above, a student must meet the following criteria:

- Have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher and a minimum GPA of 3.25 for all Russian Studies courses.
- Have completed a minimum of 75 credit hours of coursework.
- If a transfer student, have completed a minimum of 24 credit hours at CU Boulder.

It is recommended that applications be submitted the spring semester of the third year of study, but late applications will also be considered. Two letters of recommendation indicating strong potential for advanced, intensive work in Russian also required. Students should have completed most of their MAPS/Gen Ed requirements by the end of the sophomore year. Only CU Boulder students may apply.

Program Requirements

Students may take up to and including 12 hours while in the undergraduate program, which can later be used toward the master's degree. However, only 6 credits may be double counted toward the bachelor's degree and the master's degree. Students must apply to graduate with the bachelor's degree, and apply to continue with the master's degree, early in the semester in which the undergraduate requirements will be completed.

BAM students are expected to take graduate courses in the fourth and fifth years only.
