

POLITICAL SCIENCE - BACHELOR OF ARTS (BA)

A degree in political science provides students with the ability to think critically about challenges facing the world today. Students develop research, writing and analytical skills to prepare them for careers in fields such as:

- Government
- Civil service
- Journalism
- Business management
- Legislative analysis
- Criminology
- City planning
- Population studies

Students can combine the major with credentials to teach government, political science and civics in secondary schools. If a student plans to go on to the graduate level, the political science minor is an excellent complement to fields such as law, economics and a number of other social science disciplines.

Career Services (<http://www.colorado.edu/career/>) offers a number of programs and services designed to help political science students plan their career, including workshops, internships and placement services after graduation.

Requirements

Program Requirements

Students must complete the general requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences and the required courses listed below. Total credit hours required in Political Science courses: 42 credit hours, including 24 upper-division credit hours.

No courses for the PSCI major may be taken pass/fail, and a student must have a grade of C- or better in all 42 required credit hours in political science, and a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better in political science courses.

No more than 45 credit hours in political science credit will count toward the Arts and Sciences graduation requirement of 120 credit hours. This may be exceeded by 6 credit hours (for a total of 51 credit hours), provided that the excess credit hours are taken in PSCI 4715 and PSCI 4725 (honors thesis credit).

Graduating in Four Years

Consult the Four-Year Guarantee Requirements for information on eligibility. The concept of "adequate progress" as it is used here only refers to maintaining eligibility for the four-year guarantee; it is not a requirement for the major. To maintain adequate progress in political science, students should meet the following requirements:

- By the end of the second semester, declare the major.
- By the end of the third semester, complete PSCI 1101 and two of the following required courses: PSCI 2012, PSCI 2223, PSCI 2004 or PSCI 2075.
- By the end of the fourth semester, complete the remaining lower-division political science courses.
- By the end of the sixth semester, complete 12 upper-division credit hours of political science courses, including at least one course in three of the following fields: American, comparative, international relations, methodology, policy and theory. In addition, complete three upper-division or lower-division political science elective credit hours.
- During the seventh and eighth semesters, complete 12 credit hours of political science courses, including at least 9 upper-division political science elective credit hours and all remaining upper-division field distribution requirements.

Recommended Four-Year Plan of Study

Through the required coursework for the major, students will complete all 12 credits of the the Social Sciences area of the Gen Ed Distribution Requirement, as well as the QRMS component of the Gen Ed Skills Requirement. Depending on the courses selected in the major, students can also potentially complete the U.S. Perspective component of the Gen Ed Diversity Requirement.
