Factors to Consider

The following principles guide our work in preparing the next generation of educators:

- Teachers must position students as sense-makers and knowledge-generators, who desire to learn and succeed in school. This involves noticing children/youth, building relationships with them, valuing their perspectives and attending to their thinking, curiosities and capabilities.

- Teaching is both intellectual work and a craft. Deep knowledge of content and pedagogy, creativity and passion fuel both learning and teaching.

- Teachers must design equitable learning environments in which all children are engaged in robust and consequential learning.

- Teacher’s instruction and student learning is always conducted within the context of larger social systems, structures and hierarchies.

- What we do and say matters and must be analyzed. Our language and action constructs or constrains opportunities for children to build meaningful, positive and sustained relationships to learning and one another.

Colorado Teacher Quality Standards

Teacher education candidates engage in a planned sequence of courses and accompanying clinical experiences in local community and school sites. Courses and assessments ensure candidates have demonstrated appropriate mastery of (1) content taught in the Colorado Academic Standards and (2) professional practices and dispositions associated with the Colorado Teacher Quality Standards listed below.

1. Teachers demonstrate mastery of and pedagogical expertise in the content they teach. The secondary teacher has knowledge of literacy and mathematics and is an expert in his or her content endorsement area(s).

2. Teachers establish a safe, inclusive and respectful learning environment for a diverse population of students.

3. Teachers plan and deliver effective instruction and create an environment that facilitates learning for their students.

4. Teachers demonstrate professionalism through ethical conduct, reflection and leadership.
