JOURNALISM - MINOR

In consultation with their advisers, students who are majoring in another discipline may pursue a minor in journalism.

Requirements

Students must complete 18 credit hours of course work toward the minor with a grade of C- or better and an overall GPA in the minor of 2.0. Students may apply no more than six credit hours of transfer work, including three hours of upper-division credit.

Students will take only one required course, JRNL 1000, which will introduce them to a range of possible interests from broadcasting to print and online media to digital and emerging media. After successfully completing JRNL 1000, students should select one 2000-level course and four 3000- or 4000-level journalism courses.

Students may want to emphasize conceptual and theory courses, select skills courses that help to prepare them for possible careers, or complete a combination of the two.
